LIVES LOST; VAST AREA IS UNDER WATER

M'NULTY AS WITNESS IN OWN BEHALF

LIVES LOST; VAST AREA IS UNDER WATER

Northwest Washington Is Swept by Big Flood.

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 15.—Information was received here this afternoon that forty people are marooned on an island at the junction of Cowlitz and Columbia rivers, and that the flood waters are sweeping up around them, and that they are in danger of drowning. Acting on this information the owners of the steamer Burnett have just sent that vessel to the scene with the hope that she will be able to rescue the marooned people, who are farmers, forced from their homes to higher lands.

M'NULTY AS WITNESS IN OWN BEHALF

Tells of Flirtation With Pretty Miss Dorothy Olsen.

Lester C. M'Nulty, defendant in the action brought against him by the people through Miss Dorothy Olsen, took the stand in his own behalf this morning in the Superior Court before Judge Harris and gave his version for the fourth time of the occurrence that transpired between himself and the girl on that fateful night.

M'Nulty admitted that he left the car and followed the girl but on y did so to carry out the flirtation she had started. He never intended to do anything that she would not consent to, and reaching the coping surrounding the Stoddard house, both sat down.

Then he put his arms around her. She made no resistance until a buggy approached. Then thinking to shield himself and her from the occupants, he did not arise from the lawn, but sought protection behind the shadow of the car.

After she knew she was seen, he said the girl screamed and struggled to gain her liberty, which she succeeded in doing.

Then she ran in one direction he in the other, leaving his overcoat. He returned for it, but feared identification and gave it up as lost.

Lester C. M'Nulty, the defendant, continued his testimony this morning when he testified on cross-examination that the night he did not let the girl belong to him, but on the former trial he stated that Miss Olsen stood on the lawn and would not allow him to take it. He explained the difference of the evidence by saying that he did not remember.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Bulletin today says. Complete evidence of the French restaurant graft by which Abe Ruef and Mayor Schmitz collected a sum aggregating $28,000 from the proprietors through an illegal conspiracy was heard by the new Grand Jury yesterday in a lengthy secret session. The inquisitorial body is meeting again today, and it is expected that they will return a true bill accusing both the mayor and his broker.

The assembling place of the jury is at Gough and Gerry streets in a former Catholic institution now used as Native Sons' hall. The witnesses examined at yesterday's meeting, both by the jurors and District Attorney Langdon, with Francis J. Heney, special prosecutor in the present investigation, were Max Adler, former proprietor of the Bay State restaurant; Jean Loup, of the Pup; Joe Malfanti, of Delmonico's; Tom Blanco, of the Poodle Dog; Edward Marchand, of Marchand's; former Police Commissioners Poheim, Hutton, Drinkhouse and Reagan; and Attorney Martin Stevens.

Though the evidence was practically complete, there was not sufficient time to examine all the witnesses, and former Police Commissioner Howell N. P. Scott, business agent of the Cooks and Waiters Union S. L. Constantini, of Tortoni's, and J. George Boyne, secretary of the Police Commission, were summoned to appear this morning, though Boyne's wanted more especially on another line of inquiry which will embrace the license office.

Yesterday's session was not ended until 7 o'clock last night. The taking of testimony ceased about 6 o'clock. The following half hour was given over to an address by Heney, in which the emphasized word "Ruef" permeated the thin walls of the jury room from time to time. Both Heney and Langdon then left the room and joined Secret Service Agent Burns in the corridor. After a deliberation on the part of the eighteen members who remained after Juror Young had been excused at his own request, Heney and Langdon were summoned to return. In a short time Heney came out again and announced that all those who had been subpoenaed were to return again at 10 o'clock this morning. He then left the building, followed a short time later by the jurors.

Every witness and every juror preserved an impenetrable reticence concerning the progress of the investigation inside, and no one learned what was the direct evidence, though the story of the French restaurants has been known for more than a year in fairly complete detail.

The genesis of the scandal is to be found in the closing of Tortoni's restaurant after certain evidence against it had been secured by the Cooks' and Waiters' Union. Ruef is said to have offered to keep the place open through his Police Commissioners if a certain sum was forthcoming, but, at any rate, its license was revoked.

About this time Police Commissioner Howell was retired and Dr. Poheim took his place. This was presumably part of the conspiracy, as Poheim could be depended upon to do anything that Ruef told him to do. Hutton was the original crusader against the restaurants, but was not sufficiently amenable to the administration, and was removed after a scandal invoked by Mayor Schmitz so that the deal could be put through without his vote, which would have tied the board.

Before this Regan had been directed by the mayor to start a crusade against the restaurants, and did so in all good faith, as he had been convinced that the upstairs sleeping apartments were immoral. Once started in this direction he remained "put" and could not be changed, despite all the pleadings of the mayor after the corruption fund had been collected and it was urgent that the licenses of the resorts should be granted once more.

The difficulty was overcome by appointing no successor to Hutton for a considerable period after the deal was consummated. Ruef appeared before the commissioners as attorney for the French restaurants after he had their bribe in his pocket as a "fee." After a few minutes' talk on his part the board decided not to close the places. Reagan, however, could not be influenced and voted against them.

ABE RUEF.

Decision Expected Late This Afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Grand Jury met this morning and after remaining in session for twenty minutes adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

No witnesses were examined and it is believed that the decision of the Grand Jury will be announced this afternoon.

District Attorney Langdon and Assistant District Attorney Heney were closeted with the jurors this morning, but they remained absolutely silent as to what had transpired behind the closed doors.

The jurors likewise refused to commit themselves as to what they had done and declined to say whether or not their next meeting would be before Judge Murasky, who is taking Judge Graham's place while the presiding judge is out of town.

POLICE RECORDS IN HANDS OF JURYMEN

(Special to THE TRIBUNE)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Grand Jury adjourned at noon today until 2 o'clock this afternoon, the French restaurant cases being still under advisement.

District Attorney Langdon and Deputy District Attorney Francis J. Heney called at the police headquarters soon after the adjournment and obtained all the records pertaining to the case now before the Grand Jury. Their purpose in securing these records was to use them in the prosecution this afternoon.

An indictment in the French restaurant cases is looked for very early.

ABRAHAM RUEF WANTS TO GIVE TESTIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Grand Jury resumed its session at 10 o'clock this morning and continued probing into the alleged graft in the municipal administration.

Indictments against prominent officials are expected at any moment.

It is said that Abe Ruef expects to be indicted and is prepared to meet the emergency.

Ruef says that he would like to appear before the Grand Jury and tell them "some things."

He said that yesterday afternoon he had run across his contract with the Restaurant Keepers' Association, and would show this to the grand jury if given an opportunity.

The contract, he said, retained him as attorney for the restaurant keepers for a period of two years.

As their attorney he was to prosecute and defend all of their suits and attend to all other legal business. He would not mention the amount of the fee fixed in the contract, but said he would show the figures to the Grand Jury.

When asked if the amount was $20,000, he replied: "It was not 25 per cent of that figure. I'm ashamed to tell you how small it was."

REFUGEES MAY HAVE TO MOVE

Sanitary Officers to Make Investigation Into Camp, Shops, Markets, Etc.

The San Francisco refugees who are still living in tents on vacant property in this city will probably have to find other habitations. Last night at the meeting of the Board of Health, the sanitary inspector was directed to investigate the condition of the camps and make a report of his findings.

The need of an additional inspector to investigate the conditions in local bakeries, butcher shops and vegetable markets was discussed, and inasmuch as the present inspector is overworked, the light, air and food committee will make a tour of the bakeries and report back at the next meeting of the board.

A petition signed by refugees from San Francisco is being presented to the Board of Health to grant them permission to remain on the city property located on Fallon street near Twelfth street, providing they installed sewers and other sanitary appliances, was placed on file, the board taking the stand that they had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Mayor Mott when seen relative to this subject later in the evening, stated that the city was desirous of doing all in its power to aid these unfortunate refugees, but that it was imperative that the city should take charge of this land in the near future as a park is contemplated on the site of the camp and the ground must now be prepared in order to take advantage of the coming winter. He stated, however, that the refugees would be allowed to use other city property should they find any suited to their needs.

The Woman's Civic Club last evening complained to the Board of Health that the sidewalks and gutters in the vicinity of the Pacific Exchange were unsightly and unsanitary on account of the dumping of refuse from, and that garbage wagons are being driven through the streets in front of the club.

Upon a motion of Dr. P. A. Dukos, the secretary was instructed to address a communication to the Chief of Police requesting him to arrest all offenders, charging them with creating a nuisance.

Dr. E. N. Ever, the health officer, reported that a building located at 610-615 Fifth street was in an unsanitary condition on account of its faulty plumbing, and it was ordered closed.

The Department of Public Health and Marine Hospital, Service at Washington asked for information concerning the Oakland water supply to aid them in a study they are making of typhoid and its cause.

Arthur also made a similar request desiring copies of recent water tests for his own use.

The secretary was instructed to furnish the information requested.

A communication from Harry M. Bigelow, of the City Clerk's office, Portland, Maine, was received, stating that the garbage in that city is being collected by a contractor who has a two years' contract. He states the arrangement is very unsatisfactory and that the time is approaching when the matter will be placed in charge of the Board of Health.

In response to a letter addressed to the San Francisco Board of Health relative to the prevalence of typhoid fever in that city Dr. F. R. Fagan directed that a copy of the suggestions adopted in San Francisco on October 30, 1906, be forwarded.

The suggestions advise the people to boil all drinking water and milk before using and to avoid all accumulations of dirt.

The board then adjourned to meet again next Wednesday night, at which time the garbage question will be threshed out.

Dr. Avenant said in regard to the strict inspection of like shops:

"Many of them are located in basements, filled with dank foul smelling air. In many bakeries the bread is made in a very unsatisfactory manner and it is a wonder to me that more disease and sickness do not follow the eating of the bakery baked in such hovels and under such conditions."

So far the like-shops have been innumerable from the paying fees of the health officers. However, the Oakland Board of Health has decided to wage a campaign against the bakery establishments where humans food and ill-kept shops and premises prove a menace to the public health. The entire membership of the board will make a tour of the city and inspect all bakeries, upper and lower floors, bake

SON OF ERIN BUMPS INTO A NEGRO

"If it were not for me stunned condition I would have punched his head off," said D. J. Collins, an Irish laborer, to Warden J. M. Foxe at the Receiving Hospital this morning, as he was having three stitches taken in a lacerated wound of the upper left eye. Collins left his home at 124 Webster street at an early hour for work. He was riding his wheel and had gone but a few blocks when he saw a negro approaching, also mounted on a wheel. Both men tried to avoid each other with the result that they were victims of an impromptu collision. When Collins recovered he found he was too dazed to chastise the negro, who he said, was the offender, but as a matter of fact the disciple of Ham had a harder skull and readily made his escape.

BRIDGES' VOTE IS CUT DOWN

Supervisor John Mitchell announced today that the majority of W. S. Bridges, Republican candidate for Supervisor in the Second Supervisorial district, over Charles Hays would be cut to 43 owing to errors discovered last night in the Hays-Hartman case. NAVY'S THREAT TAKING EFFECT

Vallejoites Make no Objection to Increasing Liquor License to $400 Per Year.

VALLEJO, Nov. 15.—Local sentiment in regard to the high license proposition received a strong boost last night when it became known that the navy department is apparently already acting on its threat to withdraw its patronage from the Mare Island Navy Yard unless Vallejo reduces its number of saloons at least one-half and closes the drinking places at midnight on Sundays. The gunboat Princeton, which was recently ordered from this yard to Bremerton to be repaired, but which was to have stopped here on her way south to Magdalena bay to obtain supplies, will not come here today.

The people who at first were poo-pooing the idea that the navy department could do nothing to injure the town, are now falling over themselves to get in line with the reform. There appears to be no objection to the midnight closing and the raising of the license from $30 to $400 per annum, and to reduce the number of saloons, but the Sunday closing meets with little favor.

CANNOT STOP THE FAST TRAINS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 15.—By a decision handed down by Judge Doty, of Westmoreland county, it has been decided that a municipality has no authority to make regulations as to the speed of fast trains passing through its borders, and as a result railroad men in Pittsburgh are rejoicing.

The case in point was an appeal taken by the Allegheny and Ohio Railroad from the decision of Justice of the Peace Louis Strasser, of Sutersville. Sutersville passed an ordinance limiting the speed of trains passing through the borough to ten miles an hour, and an engineer was taken from his train and put in jail for fast running.

The case from which an appeal was taken, and the justice of the peace, who imposed a fine on the engineer, is reversed. The Pennsylvania Railroad's fast trains were threatened to be stopped by the borough of Sutersville passing ordinances limiting speed.

ROOSEVELT ON PANAMA TRIP

President Given Royal Welcome at Colon—Will Dine With Amador Tonight.

COLON, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt left the flagship Louisiana at 7:30 this morning and landed shortly afterwards. He was met by Canal Commissioner Shoen, Chief Engineer Stevens, General Manager Bland of the Panama railroad and other high officials. All the school children of Colon were assembled in groups about the pier where the president landed, and sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America."

Some time later President and Senator Amador and the Bishop of Panama reached the spot and greeted Mr. Roosevelt. The entire party then boarded a special train decorated with flags and left Colon at 8:10, proceeding slowly in the direction of Panama, in order to enable the presidential party to have a good look at all points of interest along the route. President Roosevelt will be the guest of President Amador this evening.

GRILLED BY LITTLEFIELD

Samuel Gompers Is Scored by Congressman at Banquet Last Night.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The National Founders' Association closed a two-day session with a banquet at the Hotel Astor last night. President C. P. Briggs presided. Congressman Littlefield of Maine, one of the speakers, attacked Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He denounced the leader as a scoundrel and a traitor. Speaking of a bill advocated by Gompers, and now before the House of Representatives, he said it was an act which sought to give laboring men the right to conspire to commit murder, to threaten, to intimidate, to coerce. In other words, to make conspiracy that seeks the destruction of property and even of life not a crime.

MANY CASES AT THE HOSPITAL

Physicians Are Kept Busy at the County Institution.

Steward Harry Borchert was kept on the jump at the Receiving hospital this morning treating minor surgical cases of an emergency nature.

John Lutz, a laborer, twenty-three years old, living at 847 Franklin street, was the first to appear. He was walking along Washington street and had reached the corner of Tenth when a brick fell from the second story and landed on Lutz's head, falling to the ground. He received a lacerated wound of the scalp.

"Foreign body in right eye," was the report of new shiner, living at 847 Franklin street, twenty-two years old, living at 811 Grove street. Warden Page searched for the troublesome object and succeeded in removing the man's sight to its normal condition.

Mistaking the index finger of his left hand for a shingle, Heber Bartz, twenty-two years old, living at 1014 Broadway, buried a hatchet into the member and bled at once to the hospital. He was working at Tenth and Myrtle streets, and took two stitches in the wound. Bartz was walking along Thirty-sixth street about three years ago and as he reached the corner of Market street, he encountered a brick which fell from the second story of a building and struck him on the head. He was badly injured, notified the police. The patrol took the victim to the hospital where Dr. W. N. Irwin on examination found he had sustained fractures of several ribs on the left side. Gustafson lives at 935 Magnolia street.

Joseph Ludovich, nineteen year old, a waiter employed at the Palace Bakery on Washington street, attempted to cut a piece of bread from the top of a loaf, a slice from the index finger of the left hand. Ludovich lives on Eighth street, between Washington and Clay. Dr. Irwin said he had seen a similar case in Angelo Bassotti, an Austrian, nineteen years old, living at Second and Grove streets, had the middle and ring fingers of his left hand cut by a paper machine at the place of employment and Dr. Irwin was called upon to dress the lacerated wounds that resulted.

LABOR LEADER ON CONDITIONS

Some Facts Concerning Labor Affairs in San Francisco.

The Labor Leader, of Lancaster, Pa., publishes the following in relation to labor conditions in San Francisco, under date of October 27, 1906:

"Officials of the trades unions of San Francisco, the labor papers of California and public officials are all authority for the statement that there are more than enough workers of all classes in San Francisco to supply the demand. As a matter of fact, there have been sent out from the city during the past few months, statements from reliable sources warning workers to stay away from San Francisco. In the words of a reliable labor authority in San Francisco: 'The whole truth is told when we say that we have in San Francisco at the present time thousands of laborers—among them a large percentage of mechanics—who are not idle, but who are hungry. They live on the scant rations of charity, because they have to. There is no work for them, and there is no material to work.'"

SOMETHING BIG PROMISED HIM

Heavy Sentence for Man Who Didn't Know What He Was Doing.

Promising to impose a sentence that would make him reflect for some time, Police Judge Samuels this morning continued the case of James Nelson, colored, who was arrested for discharging firearms within the city limits. Nelson was arrested at the instance of C. O. Olin.

The defendant claimed that he was intoxicated when he fired his pistol and said he did not know what he was doing.

"That is the more reason why you should be severely punished," said the court, "the more you are punished, the more you will be a law-abiding citizen and draw your revolver and shoot several pedestrians in their tracks. When you come up tomorrow, promise you a sentence that will make you behave in the future."

DOROTHY HARTMAN ON THE STAGE

Dorothy Alathen Hartman made her debut upon the stage at the Lyric Theatre last evening and she received an ovation. From the moment of her appearance to the time when she disappeared from the stage, Dorothy was in demand. Her proud father never was in the house of the Lyric Theatre through the "Tar and the Tartar" it was evident that his daughter's feelings were due to the hit made by his daughter. That Miss Hartman has stage presence was apparent shortly after her entrance upon the stage. It was seen that she was a natural born actress, there being no fear of so-called "stage fright" in her demeanor. Although she did not essay to make Sylvia Page, the prima donna, jealous, Miss Hartman strove with her for the honors of admiration and attention. Every woman in the big crowd adored her, but the men were rather slow to comment of a favorable nature was made upon the youthful newcomer's comeliness, many of the ladies of the chorus were bursting with the responsibility of a dimple or a smile. The glare of the footlights did not bewilder her, the glare of the orchestra and the voices of the chorus did not disturb her. She proved herself at home on the boards, and many a sigh of regret was heard when Miss Hartman bade good night to her audience. Some day Miss Hartman will be a star; at present she is only an infant in playdom.

IMPROVEMENTS IN S. P. YARDS

New Barn Saw Installed—Rumor Says Stanford Private Car Is Sold.

A new barn saw is being installed in the Southern Pacific machine shops, which will be run by an electric motor. As everything is ready except the wire connections, the work is very near completion.

Master Mechanic W. H. Russell and W. R. Scott, superintendent of the western division, are out on the road making a tour of the Pacific system. They expect to be away four or five days.

A large wrecking crane from Cayas is down at the West Oakland shops for repairs.

FOREMAN DROPS DEAD.

J. M. Dunnigan, general foreman of the boiler makers of Sacramento, dropped dead on Howard street, San Francisco, Tuesday. Dunnigan was a very well known and a very popular man, as he used to travel from shop to shop on the western division. Heart failure was the cause of death.

KERR AGAIN ON DUTY.

L. C. Kerr, engineer, resumed work yesterday morning after having been laid up for a number of weeks with a badly crushed foot.

CAR REPORTED SOLD.

There are unconfirmed rumors that the Stanford private car has been sold. It has been ordered that the car be cleaned, painted and inspected immediately.

PAY DAY COMING.

Saturday, November 17, will be welcomed with delight by the workmen in the West Oakland yards, as that is the day upon which the company will pay its employees.

STILLMAN PROMOTED.

H. Stillman, formerly engineer of tests, has been promoted to the position of mechanical engineer of the Pacific system.

VISIT SHOPS.

H. H. Forney, superintendent of air-brakes, and Horace Crocker, who is the Westinghouse representative on this coast, were on a visit to the West Oakland shops yesterday.

Louis G. Hines, representing the Ford Machine Tool Company, also paid a visit here yesterday and spent the day in looking over his company's interests in the shops.

WAYS IMPROVEMENT.

A great improvement is being made at the marine ways, which is an important part of the yards in West Oakland. The ways, as they are now, can only hoist one ship on the dock at a time, and in that way make work very slow. The new arrangement will allow a vessel, after being hoisted to the top of the ways, to be shifted to one side, thus leaving the traveling cable free for use in pulling other vessels upon the ways. This will make it possible for three or four vessels to be worked on at one time. The machinery is now here for the new arrangement. This will prove a decided improvement upon the marine ways which are now in use.

FLINT'S FUNERAL

Charles Gibson, the roundhouse gang boss at the West Oakland shops, and George McFarlane, the wheel expert, are attending the funeral of Eminent Grand Commander Flint of the Knights Templars in San Francisco today. Many of the men working in the yards belong to the order of Knights Templars and will attend the funeral in a body.

RETAIL STORES TO GO TO CLAY STREET

If anything, the past week has been more lively in real estate circles in Oakland than many of its predecessors during the past three months. There is a widespread opinion that the new retail district will soon be opening up in the neighborhood of Fifteenth and Clay. There is brisk bidding for property in this section, and it is felt away over on Grove street.

"During the past few days," said George W. Austin yesterday, "I have sold one piece of property on Sixteenth near Clay four times, and each time at a sharp advance. Another piece of business property on Seventeenth near San Pablo has changed hands three times in a month."

"There are now six buildings mostly of six stories each being erected on San Pablo avenue inside of Twentieth street, while the Alameda Building & Loan Association's new structure at Sixteenth and Clay will be five stories. These buildings are the best proof of the keen interest that is being taken in that section of town. There is a general demand for business property in the neighborhood of Eighth and Clay streets, also along Franklin street, as well as north and west of the city hall. In these different localities we have made twenty-seven sales this week. The rumor of the sale of the first Presbyterian church property at Fourteenth and Franklin streets caused a flurry in the real estate situation in that locality. Should the rumor prove true, there will be some very big deals made in the near future."

The confirmed report that several retail houses will permanently locate at Fifteenth and Clay is naturally attracting considerable attention. Many of the biggest retailers of Oakland have already secured property in that neighborhood, and this has naturally led others to become interested, with the result that today I have eight separate commissions to acquire good sites at near Fifteenth and Clay as it is possible to get them.

We have just sold the building on Franklin street between Ninth and Tenth, which is occupied by the William Cluff Company, wholesale grocers. It was sold for H. G. Gier to a local investor. I am not at liberty to give the details, but I can say that a piece of business property in the heart of town which I sold a week ago for $100,000 could have been sold yesterday for a very substantial advance, but the present owner declined the sale. This is a condition all over the city."

SORROWING FRIENDS SEND FLORAL TRIBUTES

The remains of the late "Sash" Calmes, one of the best known newspapermen on this side of the bay, who passed away yesterday morning as a result of fatal injuries he received during an accident in East Oakland last Saturday night, were taken to Colusa this morning for burial. The body was accompanied by William Jordan of the San Francisco Call bureau of this city, with which Calmes was connected.

Many sorrowing friends sent floral offerings, numerous and beautiful. Each of the newspapers of this city sent floral pieces in memory of the departed, who was always known as a staunch and true friend.

The funeral will be held in Colusa, where the deceased had relatives.

WRIT IS DENIED BY THE JUDGE

George Vernon, Jr., son of General George Vernon, living on Alice street, this city, and connected with the United States Treasury in San Francisco, will be taken back to Tacoma on a charge of embezzlement. Judge T. W. Harris this morning denied the writ of habeas corpus sued out by the prisoner's attorney, J. J. Burke. An officer has already arrived from the North and Vernon will be taken there at once. It is said that he claims that he is innocent and that a partner is responsible for the charge.

AMERICAN GIRL A BORE? MR. EDITOR YOU'RE WRONG

Winifred Black Takes Exception to the Observations in Weekly Magazine.

(BY WINIFRED BLACK.)
The editor of Harper's Weekly has come out in cold print and thrown a den at the feet of the admired and admiring American girl.

"The American girl from 18 to 25 is a bore," he says. "What do you think of that, girls? I don't know the editor of Harper's Weekly, and I don't have to know him to understand just the kind of man he is after all, either, do you?"

Has the sort of fellow who doesn't believe in Christmas, who thinks engagement rings are silly and who tells all his relations just at this time every year that he thinks Thanksgiving is the greatest bore on earth.

The American girl a bore? Tat, fudge and blinks. No girl is a bore from 18 to 25, no matter how ugly or how stupid, or how insignificant, or how silly she is. She is walking in the enchanted land of romance and the dreams she dreams give to the dullest eye a look that is more beautiful than all the poetry that was ever written.

Of course I don't like to tell to a girl between 18 and 25.

Who does—except people of her own age and her own funny little standards? She wouldn't listen to me if I did talk to her; she'd pretend to poor thing, and she'd say "How dear!" and "What a darling thought!" and "Oh how sweet of you!" and all the time she'd be singing over and over in her happy heart the song He whistled to her banjo accompaniment the last time she saw him.

Me? What on earth does she care about a commonplace, stupid, middle-aged person with a family and a husband and bills to pay and friends to entertain and little chubby cheeks to kiss?

What is there interesting about such a person as that to sweet and smiling eighteen? That's where I've got the best of her—I bore her to death, but she interests and entertains me so that I can hardly keep from laughing aloud in pure delight every time she lets me see just a little ways into her foolish, innocent, gentle heart.

I don't want to talk with her at all; I just want to sit somewhere where she is and look at her, and laugh at her, and shed a fond tear or two over her and love her every minute.

Why, I'd rather spend an afternoon watching a room full of 18-year-olds giggle and exclaim and gush and attitudinize than I would go to the best theater or the most interesting lecture in the world.

They're real, the 18-year-olds are. They're living just exactly the kind of lives they were intended to live. They laugh one minute and cry the next. They're in despair over the fit of a gown and have dark thoughts of suicide because somebody else dances the latest two-step better than they do.

They have grave, serious attacks and want to be "helpful" and "uplifting." Aren't they irresistible when they get to the uplifting point of view? I ride down with a whole car full of them every morning of my life. "High schoolers and Miss Wolcotts," I heard the conductor call them one day, and no matter what the world seems to me when I start out from home, it turns into an iridescent bubble of youth and hope and gaiety and laughter before I get downtown.

Bless the girls' and their college pins and their lunch boxes, with the boys' names scribbled all over them, and these immense hair ribbons and their beads and their bracelets and their soft eyes and their gentle hearts and their empty heads. Bless them every minute, and out upon any old fossil that dares to confess that he finds the American girl or any other girl from 18 to 25 a bore.

When I get so that I think everyone who isn't interested in just exactly the kind of things that I am interested in, is a bore, I am going to go out to Kansas somewhere, buy a good, warm, dry cyclone cellar, crawl into it and bore myself to death.

TERRIBLE ITCHING SCALP HUMOR

Badly Affected With Sores and Crusts—Extended Down Behind the Ears—Some Years Later Painful and Itching Pustules Broke Out on Lower Part of Body—Son Also Affected.

A TRIPLE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About ten years ago my scalp became badly affected with sore and itching humors, crusts, etc., and extending down behind the ears. My hair came out in places also. I was greatly troubled; understood it was eczema. Tried various remedies, so called, without effect. Saw your Cuticura advertisement, and got them at once. Applied them as to directions, etc., and after two weeks, I think, of use, was clear as a whistle.

"I have to state also that late last fall, October and November, 1904, I was suddenly afflicted with a bad eruption, painful and itching pustules over the lower part of the body. I suffered dreadfully. In two months, under the skillful treatment of my doctor, combined with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I found myself cured.

"Six years ago my son was laid up with a severe cold, a hard cough, and finally painful eruption all over the body. I procured the Cuticura Remedies as soon as possible, and after his faithful use of same was as well as ever in two weeks, as well as I can recall. He has never had a return of the illness, as far as I know.

"I have always been pleased to commend the Cuticura Remedies, and testify as to their efficacy. I am a veteran of the late Civil War, '61-'65, between seventy and eighty years of age. Yours truly, H. M. F. Weiss, Rosemond, Christian Co., Ill., Aug. 31, 1905."

The Van Alstynes were leaders in Brooklyn society, being members of the Cortez, Midwood and Knickerbocker field clubs. He is a banker and broker. She was a belle of Charlotte, Mich., when the New York broker went up to the Peninsula State and made her his wife in St. Valentine's month, 1901.

They separated in 1903, and in June, 1905, Maurice Meyer said in his opening address to the jury:

"Gay C. Van Alstyne became a boarder in the home of Mrs. Katharine P. Newman, otherwise known as Allison, in her house, No. 80, Argle road, Flatbush, and lived there one year, moving with her last June to No. 1405 Ditmars avenue."

Mr. Meyer said he would show that Mrs. Newman bought dry goods under the name of "Mrs. Van Alstyne" and that Mr. Van Alstyne's pajamas had been found in Mrs. Newman's room by the servants.

Mrs. Van Alstyne, a striking beauty, with a tall, well-rounded figure, luxuriant dark hair and big blue eyes, did not look at her smaller, more frail rival as the latter responded to her lawyer's call to her as the first witness.

Henry Schuermann, counsel for the co-respondent, and ex-Judge Dittmer, counsel for Mr. Van Alstyne, took turns in objecting to Mr. Meyer's questions to Mrs. Newman.

Mrs. Newman said she bought the Argle road house in 1905 and she described the fifteen rooms in it. She said Mr. Van Alstyne paid $75 a month for board for himself and little boy, Percy Van Alstyne, down to last August, when the court took the 3-year-old away and gave him to his mother. Since then he has paid $50 a month.

"Where did you hang your clothes?" Mr. Meyer asked.

"In the closet off the room where the little boy slept."

"How did you come to hang them there?"

"Why, it was my house and I did about as I pleased in it."

PROMINENT SOCIETY LEADER HURT WHILE PARTICIPATING IN A HUNT

Thrown From Her Horse and Injured, but She Pluckily Rides to the Finish.

Mrs. Adolf Landenburg, one of New York's most prominent society leaders, is passionately fond of hunting, and is a splendid horsewoman.

In vaulting a high fence during a recent hunt, Mrs. Landenburg was thrown from her horse.

Before the other members of the party who were seriously alarmed by the accident, could slacken speed, however, the plucky society woman was on her feet.

The horse, a well-trained animal, halted at the cry of "Whoa," and, with a shout of "I'm all right," Mrs. Landenburg remounted her steed and galloped on.

She lost but very little time by her throw, for she was in at the finish with the rest of them.

Despite a few minor bruises and a mud-splattered habit, Mrs. Landenburg was none the worse for her mishap, for that same evening she laughingly described her experience at a reception.

WANTS $5000 OF MAN

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 14.—Mrs. J. Katie Hartman of Macungie today entered suit against Dr. O. K. Hoopes, of Tamaqua, for $5000 damages for breach of promise. The plaintiff alleges that Dr. Hoopes courted her for eight years, and that last February he suddenly ceased his attentions, and soon after married Miss Sue Brode.

FAVORS TAKING CHILDREN FROM ALL PARENTS WHO ARE DISSOLUTE

Radical Change in the Present Mode of Living Is Suggested by This Man at Meeting of American Humane Society.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A sensation was sprung at the session of the American Humane Association when Benjamin Marsh advocated the most radical change in the mode of living in the interest of children.

Mr. Marsh unequivocally urged the segregation of all parents who were physically and morally unfit to bring strong, healthy children into the world.

"We should use every means of preventing the dissolution of families," said Mr. Marsh, who is the secretary of the Pennsylvania Society to protect children from cruelty. "When it is shown that the parents are not the proper persons to care for their offspring, however, there should be no hesitancy about taking the children from them."

There are many married women who bring children into the world who are so dissolute as to make them unfit for parenthood. I emphatically assert that some means should be taken to prevent them taking, oftentimes by chance, the responsibility of parenthood.

"We have hitherto removed children from vice. We are constantly striking at the root of the evil, and we remove vice from children. When we strike deeper we can prevent children being born into vice."

Mr. Marsh advocated obtaining homes under different environments for families that were so placed as to be subjected to unsanitary conditions.

Miss Jane Addams declared that child labor was the greatest danger the people of the present time were compelled to cope with.

PRESS AGENT NEVER SLEEPS

Wellman's Publicity Promoter Still Drawing Salary and Delivering the Goods.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Now that Commander Peary has returned from the Arctic regions without having reached the North Pole, the only expedition known to be preparing to seek the Pole next year is that of Walter Wellman, who is now here.

There are four Arctic expeditions in the field, but none of them has the Pole as an object. Mr. Wellman is hard at work with his preparations. He began at Antwerp, a suburb of Paris, on the erection of a large hangar or workshop in which the polar airship "America" of the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald expedition is to be constructed during the coming winter.

After study of all the latest balloons dirigibles, including the Lebaudy, built as an aerial cruiser and scout for the French army, the Major Paréval ship in Berlin, designed for the German army, and the "Ville de Paris" of M. Deutsch, now awaiting her trials at Sartrouville, Mr. Wellman has decided on a plan of reconstruction designed by himself, with the assistance of his expedition engineers.

The new airship Mr. Wellman believes, will mark a distinct advance in aeronautics as applied to geographical exploration. It will have a total lifting force of $300 kilos, or more than 18,000 pounds, and will carry, in addition to his crew of five men and a fully equipped sledging expedition, 2000 kilos, of $600 pounds, of petroleum for the motor of eighty-horsepower. Instead of letting the work by contract, Mr. Wellman is building his own workshop and installing machinery and will superintend the construction by his engineers, Mr. Vennart, an American; Liventhal, Horvieu and Colardeau, of whom the last three were with the expedition at Spitzbergen last summer.

"Commander Peary has made a plucky and gallant effort to reach the Pole," said Mr. Wellman, "and though he has failed in his great ambition, all America is proud of his achievement in attaining the highest north. Commander Peary has fully demonstrated, I think, the impracticability of reaching the Pole by the old method of sledging with dogs over the unstable, drifting sea of ice. Years ago, after a bitter experience, I came to the conclusion that method was a failure, and began searching the modern arts for something more effective. I believe now more strongly than ever that we have hit upon the right idea—a motor driven airship. It is my belief that we shall reach the Pole next July or August from the immense aeronautic base we have established at Spitzbergen. The airship will only carry us to the Pole or its neighborhood, we can return by sledging. The distance covered by Peary in sledging to the eighty-seventh degree and back again last spring, would be sufficient to take us from the Pole to which we have the alternative of sledging with dogs over the ice, which prevented Peary from reaching the Pole would help us on our homeward way and there is a constant current from the Pole to the only outlet to the Arctic ocean sweeping to the west coast of Spitzbergen. While we have the alternative of a sledging return in case of necessity, we believe our airship, with a fair degree of good fortune, will carry us to the Pole and southward again to land and safety."

WIFE OF FISH AIDING IN BATTLE AGAINST HUSBAND

Society Leader Plays for the Support of Cornelius Vanderbilt and John Jacob Astor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The struggle which Stuyvesant Fish is making against Edward H. Harriman and Wall street for possession of the Illinois Central road has become a social issue as well as a financial and railroad issue. The fight has been taken up in the most exclusive circles of this city, and bids fair to disrupt the "400" or change that list of illustrious social lights.

It became known several days ago that Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish had taken up the fight in aid of her husband, and when Mrs. Fish begins to do things, she leads a somewhat strenuous existence. In this campaign, it is stated, Mrs. Fish, who has been accredited with being the arbiter of the "400," is as determined to win as is her husband, and if she falls society is likely to get a few unpleasant jars before she gets through.

AFTER VANDERBILT AND ASTOR.
The stake for which Mrs. Fish and her friends are playing is the support of Cornelius Vanderbilt and John Jacob Astor, both sons of society, both within the pale of influence of Wall street and both Illinois Central directors.

It is not to be supposed that Mrs. Fish is having an easy time, for like all women successful in society, she has rivals. In this fight, however, Mrs. Fish has succeeded in ranging on her side some of the most powerful influences in New York city. It is now the dominant portion of society against Wall street, the Standard Oil influence and Edward H. Harriman. None of those who are vitally interested in the outcome of the Illinois Central fight will admit that they are placing any hope in the efforts which Mrs. Fish is known to be making. They admit, though, that she has taken a hand in the game and that some of her social friends are being put "over the high jumps." Whether they will all take the jump or whether some of them will balk, remains to be seen.

MR. FISH NOT CONSULTED.
The initiative which Mrs. Fish is taking was not at the request of her husband. In fact, he is said not to have known anything about the matter until after the campaign was well under way. Then he at first laughed and told her she had better not get into the game. After that he watched the moves which his wife has been making with keen interest, not unmixed with amusement.

Just what Mrs. Fish will do, provided Astor and Vanderbilt side with the Harriman interests, is not known, but it is believed that a new list of the "400" will be made and that names of the Astors and of the Vanderbilts and of their supporters in New York will be omitted.

BRIDE IS WON BY GIFT OF THIRTY PIECES OF SKIN

A Romantic Story With Happy Ending Follows the Burns From a Curling Iron.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 15.—A pretty and romantic little story comes from Edgemont, which will soon have a happy climax before Hymen's altar.

Some time ago Miss Lottie Dale, a well-known young woman of Lead, was badly burned while curling her hair. She was heating the curling iron on a gasoline stove and in some manner her loose house gown caught fire. She was so badly burned about the hands, arms, shoulders and chest that Dr. Judd, who was called, pronounced her case hopeless unless some one would volunteer to give a large amount of his skin for grafting purposes.

Dr. Judd announced that at least thirty-six one-half-inch pieces of cuticle would be required to save Miss Dale's life. No one appeared willing to suffer the torture of having skin removed and things began to look dubious for the burned young woman.

Miss Dale's plight finally reached the ears of William S. Hall, a well-known young business man, and his sympathy was promptly enlisted. He announced that he would furnish the much-wanted cuticle, and went through numerous "skinning" operations without a murmur. Miss Dale's bravery and determination to get well made a deep impression on Hall and he soon fell in love with her. Before her last scar had healed over he proposed to her and was accepted.

Deepening the Harbor Channel.

The movement started by the Chamber of Commerce in favor of the deepening of Oakland harbor channel to thirty feet cannot be too earnestly advocated. It should be considered in the light of an emergency call upon the Federal government for the benefit of the commerce passing through the Golden Gate. The preservation of that commerce is not a local affair. The entire nation is vitally interested in it. The resources of the nation should, therefore, be drawn upon to the limit to sustain it against any menacing cause.

Of late years the commerce entering San Francisco bay has been increasing by leaps and bounds. It taxed the resources of the State to the limit to provide for it on the western shore of the bay long before the calamity of last April overtook San Francisco, and the overflow was compelled to seek dock accommodations in Oakland harbor. The earthquake and conflagration cut down the dockage facilities in San Francisco materially, as several of the wharves were so badly shattered as to be put out of service. The State Harbor Commissioners having no jurisdiction on this side of the bay and being unable to cope with the situation on the western shore, to which its jurisdiction is restricted, commerce voluntarily sought relief in Oakland harbor. But it finds itself handicapped here also, owing to an insufficient depth of water in the channel to float the larger steamships entering the bay. We are, therefore, unable to comply with the present necessities of ocean commerce as we should be able to do, owing to the procrastinating policy of Congress in providing for our harbor improvements. The government has been at work thirty-three years on these improvements, and yet they are far from being completed. The work has never been pushed with any degree of energy, as it should have been. If it had, the western ocean commerce of the nation would today be amply provided here with dockage accommodations for the largest shipping plying the waters of the Pacific Ocean. The channel leading into Oakland harbor has only twenty-five feet of water in it when it ought to have a depth of at least thirty feet. Congress cannot wake up too soon to the urgency of the commercial situation on this side of the bay. It should make the most liberal appropriations to put the navigable waters of the harbor in the most serviceable condition. And after the appropriations are granted it will behoove the United States army engineers to move in the matter of putting the will of Congress into effect with much greater earnestness and expedition than has marked the progress of Oakland's harbor improvements under their direction in the past. This is a time when the work of increasing facilities for commerce on this side of the bay must be pushed with all the vigor the Federal government and the State and community can command.

The Visalia Times anticipates that the citrus fair to be held at Porterville will reveal the tremendous growth of the orange industry in the foothills of Tulare county. One of the more interesting features of the industry there now is centered in the fact that the shipment of ripe fruit from the Tulare county orange belt begins early enough every year to reach the eastern markets in season for Thanksgiving day. Tulare county oranges are ready to pick and market, in fact, from one month to six weeks earlier than those of Riverside, Los Angeles and any other of the counties south of the Tehachapi divide. Up to Christmas the Tulare orange growers have practically a monopoly of the Eastern markets for the California product. Train loads of the county's orange crop are now speeding across the continent to grace the Thanksgiving day tables in the Atlantic States.

Weather and Climatic Reflections

The advent of rain again is exceedingly welcome in this section of the State. A good drenching storm just now would start the pastures growing, which would be a very welcome development to the dairymen, as it would secure ample food for their herds. Householders would also hail the coming of a big rainstorm with equal gratification, as it would naturally result in a material drop in the prices of dairy products, which are now at high-water mark.

It was raining yesterday in Washington, and the latest reports from the Oregon coast indicate that a big storm is brewing, of which the mild precipitation we are having today in the San Francisco bay region is doubtless the forerunner.

The southern counties are suffering for the want of rain much more seriously than we are. Private advices from Los Angeles report the prevalence of unusually hot and sultry weather there for several weeks past. Even the older residents of that city complain of the unreasonable temperature of eighty degrees in the shade which they have been compelled to endure during the week. The Weather Bureau reports that at many points south of Point Conception the temperature has risen as high as eighty-eight degrees. Such climatic conditions, at this time of the year especially, are unnatural and extremely enervating. After all is said and done Oakland's climate, like its superb location, commends itself to the world as being about as perfect as that of any place in existence.

SYMPATHY OF PERVERTS FOR MURDERERS.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I see by the newspapers that John Siemsen, the self-confessed murderer of three gas-pipe victims, is beginning to get all of his in San Francisco. It is noted that his cell is being visited by "handsome and stylishly dressed women" who bring bunches of carnations (the thug's favorite flower) concealed in the wrappings of which are notes breathing sympathy, encouragement, etc., and that the fair visitors poke their charming noses between the bars of the singed rat's trap and whisper condolence to as foul and cowardly a specimen of vermin as was ever "caught with the goods." The left-handed pity shown by these women mark them as mental perverts and moral degenerates, and by their acts they place a premium upon every filthy deed performed by a shameless and conscienceless crook.

Pity is a good thing; so likewise is that mercy which "falleth like the gentle dew from heaven." But I regard either just now as bad medicine in the case of Messrs. Siemsen and Dabner, who have with a few studied and dexterous passes with a gas pipe sent three innocent and unsuspecting victims into eternity. If there be any pity to be extended it would naturally go out from well-balanced humanity to the slain men's widows and orphans, and not to the murderous thugs who have bereft them. When pity, consolation, sympathy, support or sorrow is shown for such items as constitute the gas-pipe duet now in limbo I regard the exhibitors as monstrous abnormalities, mental freaks and moral accidents, as it were, and it would be exceedingly restful to believe that it were possible to stake out, sequester or lock up such gandered cattle as these "carnation" females appear to be, in order that their unhealthy drooling and influence can be rendered nil.

Boer Raid in Cape Colony.

Reports have been received from Cape Town during the past week announcing a raid of a band of armed Boers on the settlers in the northern part of Cape Colony. Johannesburg, the center of activity in the Rand mining district of the Transvaal, is said to be considerably agitated lest the raiders should succeed in starting a new Boer uprising in South Africa and plunge the country into another war. Assurances are given by Cape Town, however, that nothing of the kind is threatened and that the raiders are merely a band of freebooters—ne'er-do-wells and good-for-nothings cast adrift at the close of Boer-British hostilities and organized for the sake of plunder. The later information from the troubled district represents, however, that two additional bands of raiders have made their appearance and are ravaging the farms of the Dutch peasantry.

Outlawry is one of the customary legacies of every war, particularly where hostilities have been protracted. The riff-raff of a disbanded army, finding its legitimate occupation gone with the establishment of peace, resorts naturally to rapine and plunder as a substitute. Our own experiences with the ladores in the Philippines constitute a case in point. It will be many years, probably, before this class of marauders is subdued or exterminated, and it is quite likely that the raiders in the northern farming districts of Cape Colony have no higher ambition in their operations than that of securing as much plunder as possible from the defenseless Dutch settlers. It is not reasonable to suspect that their object is to stir up another rebellion against British authority for the simple fact that the course they are following is calculated to excite the bitter antagonism of those they are plundering instead of inciting them to join in rebellion against the present regularly constituted authorities. South Africa has always been, however, a land of political surprises and rarely free from disquieting conditions. The Boers surrendered their independence and accepted peace as a lesser evil, and while bowing to the yoke imposed upon them cannot be said to be content with their lot. However, they are in no condition at present to start a new war. Besides, they stand a much better chance to achieve their political ends by the peaceable exercise of those constitutional privileges which the government has granted to them as conciliatory measures, rather than by resorting to arms.

It has been truly said that cleanliness is next to godliness. The Board of Health's crusade against the accumulation of filth in the market places, bakeries and other establishments cannot be too strongly commended. The recent enormous increase in population makes it essential to exercise the greatest vigilance in the interest of cleanliness on which the public health is so largely dependent.

The outcome of the Castellane-Gould alliance ought to be a warning to rich American girls against the titled tuft hunters of the Old World. We predict, however, that its influence will be nil. The snobbish young women of the suddenly-made-rich Four Hundred are wonderfully attracted by those empty titles of nobility which the constitution of their own country forbids and they pay almost any price to get one through marriage. Naturally the majority of such alliances have proved failures in every respect. They have brought misery to both parties concerned. The American girl who covets the empty honor of a title gets it usually at the sacrifice of her wealth and her happiness and the romance (or rather domestic tragedy) terminates, like that of Anna Gould's, with her spendthrift and dissolute French Count, in the divorce court, with a long train of unpleasant memories to follow her through the remainder of life.

SPEED OF AUTOS LIMITED BY LAW.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Will you kindly inform me through the columns of your valuable paper if Oakland has an ordinance limiting the speed of automobiles in its public streets? If it has, why is it not enforced?

It is no uncommon sight to have two or more autos racing up Telegraph avenue at full speed, and yet that thoroughfare has more travel upon it than any other street in this city.

Only Saturday last I witnessed two autos racing up that street toward Berkeley, going so fast that a grocer and his little delivery wagon had no time to get out of the way and were run down, injuring the grocer severely, and yet when he uttered a word of protest to the autoist he was comforted with the reply, "Oh, you fellows with your one-horse rigs think you own the entire street."

Yesterday, while riding on a street car I had occasion to hold my breath at the narrow escape a lady had from being killed by an auto going at the rate of about seventy miles an hour. The lady got off a car at Sixty-fifth and Telegraph just in time to have her dress almost torn from her body by a large auto that shot by, containing four drunken men, who gave vent to their delight at the lady's narrow escape by shouting and waving their hands at her.

Although I have traveled on Telegraph avenue a great deal since the earthquake, I have not seen more than one policeman between Fourteenth and Sixty-sixth street at any time, and he was located at Idora Park, and I am informed he is there only part of the time. As Oakland has grown wonderfully in that direction of late, I think it is high time our chief of police gave us better police protection, particularly against automobiles.

We people out that way can, in a manner, protect ourselves against thugs. I for one walk in the middle of the street after dark and carry my trusty revolver in my hand ready for use, in case one shows up, but what can I do against an automobile? The thug is human and I might be able to puncture his carcass, but it takes a mighty good shot to puncture an automobile tire with the machine going at the rate of a hundred miles an hour.

I have lived in the City of Mexico several years, where they have more automobiles than we have here, and yet you seldom, if ever, hear of any one being run down by them there, and why? Because the "unavoidable accident" excuse does not work there. Any one who injures another, whether accidentally or otherwise, goes to jail, and if the injured person dies the other is tried for murder. I think a little of this kind of law would greatly reduce the number of accidents here, don't you?

WOULD LIKE TO SEE PARK MONEY VOTED

"I hear that within a few weeks we are to be given the chance to vote on acquiring several good park sites," said George W. Austin. "When we get the chance I hope everybody will take it. I am willing to do anything to help Oakland own some good parks, and if she does not buy them right now, prices will be so high in a year or two as to be prohibitive."

"As soon as the campaign for parks is started, let us all take hold of it in earnest and boom and boost until we have a unanimous sentiment in favor of the movement. Busy as I am, I would regard it as time well invested to take a day off a week and go out and hustle up votes and create interest in favor of the park project. Now is the time for Oakland to keep moving. We have got a tremendous start, and the future looks brighter every hour. Don't let us hesitate a moment, I understand that Mayor Mott and his advisory committee have given lots of time to the preparation of this park scheme, and for heaven's sake, let's all get behind it and push it along."

"No better advertisement could be sent out than the fact that Oakland has voted ample money to purchase ample park sites. We now have plenty of civic pride, plenty of opportunity, plenty of good schools, and the only thing lacking, with the exception of a new city hall, is a system of parks. Now we are wealthy enough to get them, and let us have them."

BUGGY FOUND BUT HORSE IS MISSING

Standing on the banks of the tidal canal at the foot of Grant street in Alameda yesterday, was a buggy belonging to George Ellis of 1515 Benton street, that city. Yesterday afternoon Ellis reported to the police that his horse and buggy were stolen from 475 Ninth street, this city. The police made a search for the horse and buggy, and this morning found the buggy in Alameda. What has become of the horse is not known, but it is thought that it was taken away by the man who stole the buggy.

Ocean Shore Railway Rushing Work

DOWNEY HARVEY PROMISES TO HAVE OCEAN SHORE RAILWAY COMPLETED TO HALFMOON BAY BY SPRING.

Great activity is at present displayed along the road of the Ocean Shore Railway between San Francisco and Halfmoon Bay.

In the vicinity of Point Pedro a great force of men is engaged in tunneling through the hills and completing the heavy fills necessary for the grading at that point. Here the company is experiencing its greatest difficulty.

When completed the railroad work around Point Pedro will rank as one of the greatest engineering feats in America. In the past Pedro mountain has stood forth as a veritable Rock of Gibraltar, defeating all projected railroad enterprises along the shore of the Pacific. However, in Mr. John B. Rogers the Ocean Shore Company secured an engineer for whom Pedro Mountain had no terrors. He gathered together a force of intrepid surveyors, lowered them over the face of the bald cliff, hundreds of feet above the angry breakers of the Pacific, and ran his great line of prospectors for active construction. He did likewise with his laborers, who, like giant woodpeckers, drilled small holes in the face of the cliff, into which were inserted charges of dynamite. Gradually a shelf was blasted out of the face of the solid rock, on which today are being laid the tracks of the Ocean Shore Railway. Fully $1,000,000 has been spent on this work and a trip along this part of the road, for scenic grandeur and beauty, can be likened only to the Riviera of Spain.

The greatest obstacle toward the completion of the road has now been overcome, and Mr. Harvey says that before the beginning of spring modern electric cars will be in full operation from Van Ness avenue and Market street to Halfmoon Bay.

At Halfmoon Bay, the local terminal of the railway, the Ocean Shore Company will assume the role of city builder. Here they have had the famous Chicago architect, Mr. Burnham, lay out an ideal city, and the work on the various improvements at this place, consisting of bathhouses, pavilions, power plants, machine shops, etc., will soon be under way.

Suburban townships are rapidly springing up along the line of the road from Montara Point to Halfmoon Bay, and hundreds of home seekers are being attracted to these places. Mr. Harvey predicts that there will be a population of 15,000 people between these two points within two years.

LOCAL LODGE AND CLUB NEWS

Hundreds Attend Joint Campfire and Banquet Given by Appomattox Post, G. A. R.

Foresters' hall resounded with mirth and good fellowship Tuesday evening on the occasion of a joint campfire and banquet tendered by Appomattox Post No. 50, G. A. R., to the members of Joe Hooker Post No. 11 of Alameda, and Lookout Mountain Post No. 88 of Berkeley, and their auxiliary, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. The members of Company A, Veteran Reserve, also attended in full uniform.

The affair was in charge of Captain W. R. Thomas, commander of Appomattox Post, ably assisted by a committee comprising Commodore Melvin Prescott, S. M. Carr and H. C. Garlock, to whose untiring efforts is due the complete success of the evening's entertainment.

The stage had been prettily decorated with emblems of the order, while two handsome American flags were draped in front of the platform, on which were the following honorary guests: Department Commander of Joe Hooker Post, Assistant California and Nevada; Department Commander of Joe Hooker Post, Commander John Ellsworth, judge of the Superior Court; Professor C. O. Crawford, superintendent of schools; Colonel John Le Blanc, and the president of Appomattox Corps and Ladies of the G. A. R.

Master of Ceremonies, Captain Thomas, in his opening remarks, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of General W. R. Shafter, whose remains will be interred with military honors in San Francisco today. He spoke with much feeling in regard to the bravery displayed by the late general, as they both belonged to the same regiment in the Civil War, the same chapter in the 12th Ohio.

SO SOOTHING

Its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Oakland Readers.

The soothing influence of relief After suffering from itching piles, From Eczema or any itching of the skin, Makes one feel grateful to the remedy. Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds. Here's what one Oakland citizen says: R. Gilman, of No. 1235 Clay street, Oakland, Cal., says: "Doan's Ointment is the finest thing I ever used for itching and bleeding piles, from which affliction I have suffered for years. The itching stopped after a few applications and in a short time I was completely relieved. I would not be without this preparation of the house. It is the best remedy of the kind that I know of."

rendered a song entitled "Put the Cookies on the Lower Shelf," with drum accompaniment. He also played, "Tis the Same Old Drum that Rattled in the South in Dixie," using the identical drum that had been service at the front in many a battle.

T. O. Crawford was introduced as a brevet comrade and made a stirring speech, followed by Comrade John Ellsworth, who recited some of his experiences among the negroes in the South, showing their faith in the ultimate freedom from slavery. The department commander, Colonel W. C. Alberger, complimented the members of Appomattox Post for their loyalty to the order, having increased their membership from 39 to 170, with eleven new applications now on file. The speaker called attention to the fact that there are now 25,000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic in the United States, a fact very gratifying when one considers that nearly forty-five years have elapsed since their enlistment.

Past Commander Metzger of Joe Hooker Post said that forty relatives of his family had fought during the war, seven of his brother's boys being killed, besides six of his own. President Lincoln having permitted his remaining son to return home, for which he felt extremely thankful. Joe Hooker Post has just received a certificate from the War Department showing that this post has the honor of having the youngest enlisted man in the war, Comrade Howe. Mrs. Berger then rendered a vocal solo, "She Sang a Song of Home, Sweet Home," accompanied by Miss McClellan. Colonel John H. Roberts brought the house down with his pleasing anecdote, interspersed with facts and figures bearing on the relative strength and durability of the membership of the G. A. R. in the Department of California and Nevada. He gave it as his opinion that they would outlive any other department in the nation. When one considers that over 2,000,000 soldiers out of a population of 30,000,000 people fought for their rights and safety, it is little wonder that the government has taken cognizance of those remaining by awarding pensions to the men who shouldered arms and faced death during that terrible struggle. This nation is the most appreciative on the face of the globe, and this is a potent factor in the promotion of loyalty among its people.

Before adjourning to the banquet room Mrs. Rodgers of the Relief Corps recited an "Inauguration Poem," which was well received. Mess call was sounded, and all proceeded to the tables, where covers were laid for 325 guests, and every seat was taken. Genuine baked beans and brown bread, with plenty of coffee, fruit, cake, etc., were served amid speechmaking and toasts to Appomattox Post and its popular commander, Captain Thomas, whose response added zest to the occasion. After the guests had departed the loyal ladies of the Relief Corps gathered the remnants from the banquet for distribution among needy families in Oakland.

TRIBE OF BEN HUR.

The usual weekly session of Oakland Court, No. 6, Tribe of Ben Hur, was held at Foresters' hall last Monday evening with a goodly attendance of Ben Hurs. Three new applications were received and, with others, will be initiated into the ranks on the first Monday of next month, which has been set aside as the regular initiation night. The tribe was favored by the presence of a number of visiting "Hurs," and their stories under good of the order were greatly appreciated.

Next Monday has been set aside as an open meeting, and the members are looking forward to the occasion with special interest, as a good time is assured all who attend.

NEW ENGLAND CLUB.

The New England Club will give another one of their prize whist tournaments in California hall, 1015 Clay street, next Tuesday evening, November 20. Good whist is promised. A cordial invitation is extended to all players.

FORESTERS.

Pride of the Forest Circle, A. O. F., has been holding some very pleasant and interesting meetings lately, followed by games and fun in general. On Friday evening, November 16, the "Hustlers' Club" of this circle, will give the first of a series of whist tournaments at Pythian hall, Twelfth and Franklin streets. Great interest has been manifested in this affair on account of the large number of fine prizes that will be given. These are now in display at the Lion clothing store, Washington street near Ninth.

The regular meeting of that evening will be held at 7:30 p. m., and all members are requested to be prompt in attendance.

MODERN WOODMEN.

Modern Woodmen of America has formed what is called the Bay City Log Rolling Association. The object is to promote the interest in woodcraft on the coast. The four camps that have taken up this work are Golden Gate Camp, which meets every Thursday evening at Macabees Temple, corner Eleventh and Clay streets; Fraternity Camp, Castle hall, corner Twelfth and Franklin streets, Monday evenings; Bay View Camp, Berkeley, Thursday evenings; Elcristo Camp, Richmond, Friday evening.

The first class adoption will be held at Macabees Temple by Golden Gate Camp, Thursday evening, November 15; second class adoption, Bay View Camp, Berkeley, Thursday evening, December 13th; third class adoption, Fraternity Camp, Castle hall, Monday evening, January 14; fourth class adoption, Elcristo Camp, Richmond, Friday evening, February 15.

This evening, at Macabees Temple, Assemblyman J. O. Davis, who is also State deputy, Lecturer C. E. Whalen and District Deputy H. V. Rees will address the meeting. These gentlemen are eloquent speakers, and well informed in matters pertaining to woodcraft, and there will no doubt be a large attendance.

ODD FELLOWS.

Amram Encampment, No. 95, I. O. O. F., will receive an official visit from the grand patriarch at the next meeting on November 22, on which occasion the Royal Purple degree will be conferred on several candidates, to be followed by a banquet and other interesting features.

All patriarchs are cordially invited to attend. The members of No. 95 are requested to be at the camp room, Twelfth street and Eleventh avenue, on next Sunday, November 18, at 3 p. m., to complete arrangements. The Golden Rule was conferred at the last meeting, and officers nominated for the ensuing term.

MAPLE LEAF LODGE.

Maple Leaf Lodge, No. 350, of the Fraternity Brotherhood, met at the regular hour Friday last at Franklin hall, 410 Thirteenth street, President E. Nickel in the chair. After the business session was over Brother R. N. Chappel of San Francisco made some very interesting remarks.

Brother Nickel reported Brother E. T. Duhrren, of Acton, Cal., as having met with an accident. All regretted the news, as Brother Duhrren was a regular attendant when in Oakland.

Maple Leaf also regrets very greatly the death of Brother William E. Parker of Alameda, formerly of Sacramento.

THE M. B. OF A.

The Oakland Lodge of the Modern Brotherhood of America has been holding some very successful meetings lately at their new location in the I. O. O. F. hall of East Oakland, corner of East Twelfth street and Eleventh avenue.

Quite a class of candidates for initiation are to be received at the next meeting, Thursday evening, November 22d. The supreme convention of the society at its second session in Omaha was very harmonious and enthusiastic. Although one of the younger of the fraternal orders, the national body is in a most flourishing condition, financial and otherwise. The reserve fund now amounts to $400,000, making the average assets $6 per member. This sum is loaned on first mortgage farm security and is earning over $1500 per month in interest.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS.

Golden Gate Camp, Royal Neighbors of America, held its regular weekly meeting last Thursday evening in a masquerade ball on Thursday evening, November 22, in the main hall of Macabees Temple. Some handsome prizes will be given.

OAKLAND REBEKAH LODGE.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., held a very pleasant meeting last Saturday evening, a large number of visitors being present. Sister Fargo, president of the Rebekah assembly, was present, and was well pleased with the work done by this lodge. On that evening three candidates were admitted by card, and four were initiated into the mysteries of the degree. An attraction committee has been appointed for next Saturday evening, and a good time is assured all. Visiting Rebekahs always welcome.

REDMEN.

Last Friday evening the degree team of the Comanche Tribe No. 79, I. O. O. F., held a very pleasant meeting in the Elmhurst hall, where the team conferred the degree of adoption upon several candidates, exemplifying the work in a most interesting and creditable manner. The work of Brother Oliver, prophet, was especially commendable. Short talks, stories and anecdotes enlivened the remainder of the evening. Members of both tribes and the visitors from other tribes voted the evening a most enjoyable one, and it is to be hoped that these fraternal visitations will be frequent throughout the winter season.

Sachem Paul Freeman has a faculty of making it extremely pleasant for visitors and is an ideal host. Uncas Tribe is planning many pleasant evenings for the winter. Smokers, cards, entertainments of varying nature, including some new features, are already scheduled—and there are more to come. It is assured that the tribal wigwam will be a place of interest and enjoyment above the ordinary for many moons to come. Every Red Man should therefore make it a point to attend the meetings regularly.

On November 16, a short business session will be held and on the 23d, the degree team will hold its regular drill.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS.

On Monday, November 19, the State Council of the Catholic Knights of America will convene in Sacred Heart hall, at Fortieth and Grove streets, Oakland. This will be the thirteenth biennial session and will be opened with mass in the church of the Sacred Heart, to be offered by State Spiritual Director, the Rev. Lawrence Serda, at 9 a. m. The convention will be called to order by the president immediately after the mass.

The question of assessment rates having been settled in a definite and satisfactory manner at the Supreme Council, held two years ago, with the result that the order has been progressing steadily ever since, there is nothing at this time to agitate the minds of the delegates, and they will be able to devote their time to a consideration of the various propositions intended to benefit the C. K. of A. in this State and at large.

Luncheon will be served to the delegates at noon in one of the class rooms, but instead of the usual banquets and dancing there will be a social reception and dance in honor of the delegates. This affair is in charge of a committee of members from Branch 287. Admission will be by invitation, and the cards are being sent to all members.

LADIES OF G. A. R.

The sewing circle of Colonel John B. Wyman Circle No. 25, Ladies of the G. A. R., held a sale of useful and valuable articles at 535 Seventeenth street, near San Pablo avenue, on Saturday, November 10. Attending features to aid the relief fund will be a rummage sale, "home cooking," and a tea. The proceeds of the sale will be used for the purchase of supplies for the relief fund.

GOOD TEMPLAR.

Oakland Lodge No. 162, I. O. G. T., held its regular meeting in Hamilton hall Monday evening.

The members intend giving an entertainment and social Monday evening, November 19. A vocal and instrumental program will be rendered. A good time is assured to all who attend.

RED MEN.

Ahwane Tribe No. 86, J. O. R. M., is with the band at the Alameda county fair and is doing good work, which is being promoted by the outcome of the competition last evening, which took place in Comanche's wigwam. Some weeks ago Comanche issued a challenge to Ahwane for a competitive drill in the adoption degree, which was immediately accepted by Ahwane. The time and place for the contest was set for Monday evening, November 19, at 8 p. m. The contest was a most interesting one, and was won by Ahwane. The members of both tribes were very much pleased with the result.

Ahwane made a score of 84 and immediately followed by Comanche, who sprang a great surprise on all present by an elaborate banquet was served. Comanche has always been noted for giving the best banquets of any tribe this side of the bay and on this occasion they surpassed anything that has ever been given by them. During the evening a number of addresses were made by different members of the order, which were very impressive. Brother Snyder, drill captain of Comanche, was presented with a beautiful jeweled emblem.

ly that tribe, in token of its appreciation of his services as drillmaster. Brother Snyder was so surprised and pleased that he could hardly express his thanks.

LADIES OF MACABEE.

Oakland Hive No. 14, Ladies of the Macabees, held its regular meeting Monday evening. The ladies have decided to give a "Thanksgiving bazaar" on Monday, November 20. The pretty and useful articles are to be made by the ladies to be either raffish or sold outright. The committee appointed is large enough to assure the many friends of the order a very enjoyable evening. The program of entertaining numbers will be followed by dancing. The ladies on the committee are: Mrs. M. J. Merriam, Warden, Margaret Scott, Minnie Scott, Laughland, Swift, Gustafson, Walston, Todd, Childs, Ford, and Stevens.

RATHBONE SISTERS.

Calanthe Temple No. 6, Rathbone Sisters, is now nicely settled in her new quarters, Pythian Temple, corner of Twelfth and Alice streets, where the meetings will be held, and greatly enjoyed by all. The session last Tuesday evening was an unusually interesting one, much important business being transacted, as well as a pleasant social time had under good of the order. The members all expressed themselves highly pleased to be at just house under the Pythian banner. Five applications for membership were received and referred to the proper committee, with bright prospects for continued prosperity.

Next Tuesday evening, November 20, the officers are requested to be present for a short business session, after which the many friends of the temple are cordially invited to attend one of Calanthe's popular socials.

GAS SUICIDE PASSING AWAY

Watching over the dying form of their father, realizing that every breath may be his last, are the three sons of E. J. Murphy, the gas worker, who lies dying in a little room in the Receiving Hospital from the effects of gas administered with suicidal intent. Murphy was taken from his home at 1033 Fifty-seventh street to the institution in an unconscious condition and he has never recovered from that state. His wife and five children have visited him, but his three young sons have been fidelity itself. The case is considered one of the most pathetic that has occurred in the hospital in some time. No particular cause is known for the man's act, but it is said that he grew despondent over his excessive indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. He left a note to the coroner asking him to communicate with the Gas Workers' Union, which would donate $100 towards his burial.

Send for My Market Letter. I only returned from Goldfield one week ago, and leave for there again Saturday, November 10. There are some new combinations there going through, which I want to know about. There are also reports of new strikes which I want to see for myself and know what truth there is in the stories they are sending out. In my letter which goes out this week, I am going to give you some facts and will also have something to say about brokers who never visit the mines they are dealing in. You may get some good advice on this. While in Goldfield early next week, I will write my office anything new that I discover and this information will be sent out from the office in the form of a private letter. If your name is on the list you will get one. Send your name and address. The letter will cost you nothing, and may put you in the way of making a lot of money.

FORMALLY AGREE TO SEPARATE

Senator Platt and Wife Make Public Their Agreement to Disagree.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—United States Senator T. Collier Platt and his beautiful young wife, who before her marriage to the aged Senator was Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway, yesterday signed an agreement of separation. The Platts have been living apart since they had a bitter quarrel six weeks ago.

A financial settlement satisfactory to Mrs. Platt accompanies the separation articles and there will be no divorce proceedings. Mrs. Platt, it is understood, is to receive $10,000 a year during her lifetime and retain Tioga Lodge, in Highland Mills, where she is now living. The Senator will continue to live in the Hotel Gotham until he departs for Washington to take up his duties in the Senate.

Parker, Hatch & Sheehan acted as attorneys for Senator Platt and Marsh, Winslow & Weaver were retained by Mrs. Platt in the negotiations looking to a settlement. The following announcement was made late yesterday afternoon by Mr. Weaver:

"Owing to unhappy differences between them, the undersigned have this day executed a deed of separation. While making such announcement, we wish to assert with all possible emphasis the falsity of the scandalous articles which have lately appeared in the public press. While there have been a series of differences and disputes which seem to make a separation advisable, there has been no conduct upon the part of either which could possibly be the foundation of a divorce action. No question of the infidelity of either to the other has ever been raised. Statements which have charged violent and disgraceful scenes between us or other improprieties upon the part of either of us are absolutely false."

T. C. PLATT,
"LILLIAN T. PLATT."
CAUSES OF SEPARATION.

The Platts parted after a violent quarrel about six weeks ago. Many sensational stories have been told and printed in the most sensational way. The story that the Senator had been back and forth between the city and the country and that he had been seen at the Senator's home and his wife is now made public for the first time. Mrs. Platt was accused of undue friendship with the Platt coachman, Hedges.

Many stories have been told of stormy scenes between the Senator and Mrs. Platt but the stormiest of all, and the scene which acted as the most potent lever in securing the settlement, Mrs. Platt sought, is now disclosed for the first time. Mrs. Platt threatened divorce proceedings when separation first took place, but on just what grounds was unknown to the public, but now the facts have leaked out. While the air has been full of stories about the marital troubles of the Platt family, the final break was caused by the discovery on the part of Mrs. Platt of relations existing between her husband and a woman she had counted as her friend.

The story says about a sensational raid by Mrs. Platt, in connection with Coachman Hedges, private detective and law clerk, upon a sumptuously equipped lodging-house in West Thirtieth street, where Senator Platt was found with a vicious and spitefully blooming woman whom Mrs. Platt had long suspected. Shattered doors, hysterical shrieks, bitter recriminations and the final withdrawal of Mrs. Platt bearing as trophies of her chase the dainty boots of the beautiful third party to the drama are all details of the sensational and interesting exposure upon which Mrs. Platt based the preliminary steps in the proceedings which have now terminated in what she considers a happy and satisfactory arrangement.

PART COACHMAN PLAYED.

It will be recalled that about a month ago the fact was printed that Mrs. Platt remained in the magnificent country estate in Highland Mills, while the Senator took up his abode in the Hotel Gotham. At that time there was a highly sensational story printed to the effect that the Senator resented the undue affection paid to his wife by the coachman. It was declared that Hedges had accompanied the Senator and Mrs. Platt, together with a party of friends, on a transcontinental tour in private car. The coachman's attentions to Mrs. Platt are said to have caused an irreconcilable breach and the subsequent separation which is now to be made permanent.

The principal character in the "other side of the story," aside from the Senator and Mrs. Platt, is a vivacious young blonde, a woman who has been referred to as a favorite of the Senator and until quite recently a chum of Mrs. Platt. She is married and lives with her husband.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EXTENDS ITS SERVICE

Statement Made That It Will Apply to the City Council for Cross-Town Franchises.

Under cover of the greatest secrecy the Southern Pacific Company is planning an extension of its local ferry service in Oakland on a scale so comprehensive that it is said it will cover a large section of the city not reached by either the Seventh-street or the Webster-street service, says the Call. As the story goes in business circles the Harbinger engineers have settled upon Twentieth street as the main route for a new local train system that will cross the city. By connecting lines the main system will be reached and an entirely new service will be created.

Definite routes have been selected by the company for the projected extension, which includes, as heretofore published, the Webster-street branch, which will be changed to an electric service and used as one of the outlets for the proposed cross-town lines.

Enough of the Southern Pacific's project has leaked out to indicate that the scheme involves a railroad enterprise on a large scale, as large as any of the existing ferry service lines. Though the officials deny that any such move is in the air, it is a fact that city officials have been quietly sounded on the subject. The scheme has been outlined in a general way and the best information that can be obtained at this time centers the plan at Fourteenth and Franklin streets.

From this present terminus of the Webster-street line and the Alameda mole ferry service, the natural extension would be north on Franklin street to the cross-town thoroughfare that appears to have been chosen by the Southern Pacific for its new lines—that is, Twentieth street.

TO USE ELECTRICITY.

No denial is made by the company that it has been figuring and planning the changing of the Alameda-mole service from steam to electricity. With this on hand, the next step would be to ascertain the public pulse on a scheme to run a cross-town road over Twentieth street, for example, to gain access to a large population which the Key Route is rapidly reaching after. In fact, the activity of the Key Route in building up its suburban passenger traffic has not a little bearing upon the Southern Pacific's plans. That the Key Route intends to extend its Twenty-second-street branch across the north side of Lake Merritt into East Oakland and through the eastern foothills, skirting the rapidly growing districts San Leandro, is well known in railroad circles. That the same road will eventually reach San Jose is a definite plan of the corporation. The Southern Pacific has been watching the gradual development of the Key Route with a little interest and concern. The fast, clean and well-lighted Key Route cars, and, for that matter, its boats, have afforded a good text for the Southern Pacific. The time appears to be at hand when the Southern Pacific Company will be compelled to meet on broad lines this competition. And the inference is fair that the company will endeavor closely to parallel the Key Route's lines.

To break into this territory the Southern Pacific Company will be compelled to ask for a number of franchises. This phase of the situation has been presented to some municipal officials. How to break in at this time is a problem the railroad officials will have to solve. It is said that all of the preliminaries of the proposition have been calculated and that the entire scheme is ready for public action. Indeed, the story runs that the move would have been made months ago had not the fire and earthquake intervened.

DISASTER DELAYED WORK.

The disaster turned the whole current of industrial activity into new channels, and that the situations arising out of the April catastrophe have caused a lull in the enterprise of the Southern Pacific Company in developing its suburban traffic on this side of the bay is apparent.

It is confidently asserted among some of the business men who have become apprised to a slight extent of the railroad's plans that by the first of the new year there will have cropped out assuring evidences that the company intends to go after the new suburban business that is so rapidly increasing in Oakland and vicinity. Whether the Southern Pacific officials will be ready by that time is a question which, however, does not depend on a lot from the facts that the 14 have been laid, that the engineering recommendations as to route and like have been placed before the local officials of the company. It is impossible, owing to the extreme inexperience of those officials, to say in detail at this time just how far the company has planned to go with the project. Much depends upon the attitude of the public and the municipal legislature, which would be called upon to pass upon any franchise applications the scheme would require. The various connecting links to be introduced into the system are not the new lines into touch with the system cannot be guessed at and of the inner company's officials know in detail what is contemplated. But the main project in general has been a matter of public gossip as is heretofore.

LESS SALOONS FOR VALLEJO

Municipal League Asks Bonaparte to Have Liquor Houses
Reduced One Half.

VALLEJO, Nov. 15.—The Municipal Association of this city has joined the Municipal League in its crusade for a better regulation of the saloon business in Vallejo, and it is said that the Chamber of Commerce may be entered into the agitation to pour oil on the troubled waters. The Municipal League has been sending telegrams to Washington requesting Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte to follow up his previous request for a reduction by one-half of the saloons in Vallejo by setting a definite date for the board of trustees to act.

Forbes H. Brown, who went to Washington at the invitation of the department, has just sent another letter with official indorsement, it is said, and the outcome of this latest communication is awaited with deep interest here.

RAILWAY PASS WILL VANISH

No More Free Rides After the First of the Year.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Sentiments expressed at the meeting of the Western Passenger Committee yesterday indicate that the railway pass will vanish entirely from the West on January 1. The new rate law now prohibits its issuance for interstate travel after that date to anybody but railway officials and employees of common carriers and the officials of western railroads manifest a strong disposition to discontinue issuing it for State business. The committee will meet again on November 22, when the question will be settled.

In the discussions at the meeting it was made clear that the roads probably would continue to give State passes except for the apprehension that the recipients would use them for interstate travel and thereby subject both the giver and recipient to prosecution and imprisonment under the interstate commerce act.

From the same source came the announcement that he will also give up his home in this city and move with his family to Albany. MAN WANTED TO BE KILLED

Chain Gang Prisoner Says He Tried to Escape So He Would Be Shot.

The member of the chain gang who attempted to escape yesterday afternoon while at work in Buckard park was W. B. Alderson. He received a bullet wound in the elbow from a rifle in the hands of Policeman McCready, Policeman Childwell or Policeman Emigh, all of whom tried at the fleeing figure. Alderson was taken to the Receiving hospital, where he stated that his mother was buried before he learned of her death and that the sorrow brought upon him caused him to lead a dissipated life. The prospect of a long sentence staring him in the face drove him to despair, and he made the break for liberty in the hope that he would be killed.

"I am the son of the late Dr. H. Alderson," he said, "who located with others, the Boise basin placer grounds. He made money from his claim and gave me every advantage to be somebody. At first I went to the Naval academy at Annapolis, but realizing that I was not cut out for a sailor, I resigned and entered Anna Arbor University, where I spent two years. I was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity there."

Alderson was taken into custody by the Oakland police last week for begging while drunk. The judge sentenced him to four months' imprisonment with the chain gang.

Smith, who came to St. Louis from San Francisco two weeks ago, had been discharged from a restaurant on Ninth street near the river, where he had been employed with King. They met in the saloon and quarreled.

LOG SALVAGE ON COLUMBIA

Fleet of Nine Steamers Leaves
Portland to Recover
Logs.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 15.—Nine steamers have left Portland for the Cowlitz river to engage in recovering saw logs set adrift by the recent rise in the stream. Great booms of logs broke loose near the headwaters of the river. Soon the channel became littered with the lumber which was swept away toward the Columbia by the swift current.

Unless recovered the logs will represent a heavy loss. It is variously estimated that from two million to three million feet will be lost if the boats' mission is not successful.

The principal character in the "other side of the story," aside from the Senator and Mrs. Platt, is a vivacious young blonde, a woman who has been referred to as a favorite of the Senator and until quite recently a chum of Mrs. Platt. She is married and lives with her husband.
